Announcing Closed Forums

_____

I've created a new capability within the Forum system for Closed and restricted access forums.

Currently these exist for the Paranormal Agencies, and Sensitives.

But I'm open to creating new restricted access forums. If you have a paranormal agency or group and do not currently have your own website or forum, please contact me and I would be happy to create a forum category locked for your members only. We'll work with groups to try to get your information out there.

Here at Ghosts & Haunts we're dedicated to assisting the Paranormal community gain a stronger unity.
