weird noises.. cannot make them out this is when I saw a boys face and shoulders right outside the baby's room, I kept hearing a childs voice barely in my ears.. I can hear there is some sort of distorted sound but cannot really hear it if it makes any sense. Do you hear it..if so, what do you think?

It was surreal in there, and the temp had dropped to 53 degrees and there was a horrible smell in the room.

I think I was the only one hearing things, and I was frustrated that everyone around me was oblivious lolo for some reason this has happened a few times in this room, I hear it/respond far before the audio picks it up.. anyone else had that happen?

that one whisper right after i said it, and right before he said it.. (@ 18 seconds)is not us.. but its too distorted to understand.. which is what always happens to me in that room.. I hear it.. then you hear something brief in that room.

They chatter alot (my group.) which irks me.. but I am the new "man" so... i can only do so much lol.

I wish I caught this stuff on my camera too! Think Im going to invest in a head set camera.
