Iron Island ghost box session

we are at the Iron Island Museum. There are 2 men and three women on the hunt. We started a ghost box session. An investegator asks if someone can give a name of one of us. And to us it sounded like the box says Kevin who is the other man in the building with us. Not a common name. What do you all think?

Of course, "Kevin" seems to be heard clearly. It is very interesting
