EVP aboard USS Hornet, Alameda, CA

This was captured in the ready room. Our investigators ask how many people are there with them and you hear a response. What do you think it says? I will tell you after some guesses so we don't ruin it for others by planting anything in your minds.

Nice catch! Very interesting, can't quite make out what its saying. I can tell you already tried to amplify and do some noise removal. Great job! I don't know if the first word is "No" or "Hey"...

Question, what's the thump? I hear someone say "settling", was that the house settling? Or was it something else? Great catch guys!

The thumb is noises made by the ship. These were tagged in various places. If you listen with headphones we think it says "Five-different-people"
