I believe it says "Do these people want out" or something close to that. Good catch.

Did you have extra recorders or video running to validate that no one was talking at the time or where you alone?

Two recorders is a good thing. It is RARE that an EVP is captured on two devices but it is pretty common for a real-world voice or sound caught on one recorder to be misidentified on another. Good job.

That is what I heard when I listened to it the first time. Definitely answering the question about opening the door. He simply said, These People Want Out. I would consider that a Class A EVP. Also, very likely an intelligent spirit, as 'he' is answering a direct question! Love it!!
