heres a few more from the theatre. we were trying out the ghost box.

The first one we had just turned on the ghost box and I ask my husband if it cycling thru channels and you hear what sounds like a little girl say mommy.

The second one is the same session my friend says "do you want to turn the" and before she can say it the same voice says flashlight.

The third is the same session My friend asks do you want us here and it sounded like a male voice saying listen to her..... answer..... and then a female voice says yes. We hear the yes but not the rest until play back.
