This is the last one from Ft Morgan. I hear one maybe two voices in the background. No one else was on the property but J.P. and Myself and its not our voices and once again we did not hear these as they were happening.

Its on the coast of Alabama. Right beside Gulf Shores. Its where the BP pipe ruptured a couple of summers ago

This one is interesting. It sounds very distant. Almost like someone on the outside of a building or on a radio. Not saying that's what it is, but just what it sounds like to me. If it's not any sort of interference or outside noise, nice catch!
