needing some psychic or intuitive help !!

Posted by metalbabe73 - 22 Feb 2012 02:28

My daughters have a cousin, who has been missing for 2 days. If any psychic or intuitives out there that can get anything I would greatly appreciate it his name is Paul Cunningham, he is the adult male in the picture (not the boy) he is from Rifle Colorado, any help would be greatly appreciated

He is in a very dark place. He has an attraction to darkness. Perhaps contemplating suicide. But there is a fear--he wishes to go to heaven and he is unsure he will be able to go if he ends his own life. There are hidden forces at work. There are many things that people don't know and don't understand about him. Was there a recent breakup? He is sick of being seen as a clown. There is so much more. He's not here for entertainment. He has separated himself, looking for clarity. He will come out of this looking for a new life. It will just take some time.

He is obsessed with the idea of immortality, as if through his death he will live on forever. He is not joking around. Someone didn't believe him. This is a cry for help. He needs to be taken seriously. He will not be seen as less of a person.

I don't do well long distances I usually get more from a article that they own. This is what I see Two people making plans at a McDonald's or something like that a hangout to leave the town the person he is with is painting a rainbow of opportunity that probably don't exist.he will call when he finds courage enough to overcome guilt.

I will also say that the last card I pulled last night came to me as a surprise. The cards were leading down a path of darkness and despair, and I did not know where they were going to end up. Of course I hoped for a positive ending. The last card was Meskhenet. In ancient Egypt, women gave birth by squatting with their feet on two bricks. One was thought to be inscribed by Meskhenet with the point of birth, and the other by Tehuti with the point of death. I read this as an abrupt shift in attitude, but I also wonder if this could be taken more literally and if there is indeed a baby on the way.

Metalbabe73~ My reading will be vague and may not lead you anywhere but a deeper understanding of him.

There is a lot of powerful energy surrounding him. This isn't necessarily all bad energy, just that it's powerful. A lot of persuasion I feel. A lot of confusion. He wants to lead and follow at the same time. He wants to be heard. Those cries are undeniable. He feels trapped or backed in a corner. His spirit feels caged. He desperately wants to set his spirit free. When I look at his picture a heaviness falls on my chest. A deep sadness. He thought things would be a certain way and when that didn't pan out it broke his heart. Whoever he sought to lean on would not listen and he slipped further into the abyss. He can be saved. He feels as though he can be saved but he's looking for someone that will save him. If he can't find it...he will make his own way. That is the reason for the confusion...it leads me right back to his decision to follow or lead. It is a painful process and he feels utterly alone in it.

TressesofNephthys and NormanGlasser have given you incredible insight. I pray that you find him... My gut tells me he is still around.

He has chosen his "friends" poorly and there is one who feeds off the grief and sadness of others. This "friend" has led him to places no human being should ever be sent-dark and thoroughly negative.

Look for a person in his circle of "friends" who dabbles in the occult and has a dark spirit attached. I believe the individual who holds the key is female and usus her feminine wiles to control others-right now, that means Paul Cunningham.

She will be readily recognizable by her dark affect and the permanent storm cloud phenomenon swirling about her. Her evasive tactics are legendary, but if you persist the truth will eventually be found.

Paul needs all the loving family support you can muster from this moment forward. I am focusing on the photo you provided and sending out the following message:

Paul Cunningham, you NEED to go home.

Home is where your heart is,

Home is where the help you need begins.

Your self-worth is determined by YOU and you alone.

Return to your roots, your home, your family;

Safety and support is yours for the asking.

Do it NOW, Paul Cunningham, DO IT NOW!!!!!
