Well, not so sure about Baby Lyssa Chapman or Dog the Bounty Hunter, never was a big fan of the drama of that show. But I'm certainly onboard for Ben Hansen, great guy. As the event gets closer, make sure to have them give me a 250x250 banner for the site.

@crystalcross I think Baby Lyssa Chapman is a great idea. She does not ghost hunt. She may believe in she may not she may be skeptical. I like the idea of taking someone that has never done this before and putting them in that field. It also give the participents in the group to share our paranormal passion and knowledge. I to dont watch the show. Ben was awesome and I found out that Ben Hanson will be a prominiate figure in the foundation. So he will be at as many of these events as he can.
