I had a lot of interactions like those... actually in my own house several people were hair pulled, cursed, feeling uneasy and they were sort of paralyzed... what do you think of those type of hauntings?

To be honest I've never had an aggressive spirit. I've had one in my basement and I could tell they didn't want us around but it never touched or pushed. It was just a feeling I got.

Once you visit my website...the testimonials speak for themselves. I never see them, until they're posted. They go through my Marketing Manager. Then, I view them.

Extraordinary, this really isn't a forum for advertising your services. If you would like to do that, please buy ad space. There are many sensitives and intuitives of all levels and types of abilities here. We are all here to help each other out.

I did fill out the appropriate forms, for advertising. Is there anything else, that's required?

Thank you,

Cheryl Ann

Hey Cheryl,

Sorry, if you filled one out I didn't see the request. Send me a private message. Just click on my name (will take you to my profile) and then you can send me a private message. I'll go look to see if something isn't filled out completely. It should all be pretty automatic. We'll get it going, one way or the other.
