That's awesome, you can see that it goes behind the display. Love the way the laser field looks. (Laser field is the green dots, in case that was not plain to see)

Glad to see the white streak came out. Doesn't look like it was a flashlight.

Someone was behind the display when I took the photo. Also remember that I was using rear curtain sync on the flash. We'll try this again to see if we can duplicate it.

You know me, I'll debunk my own work.
