I see a reflection of a side view of a girls face? Am I right?

Girl's face in profile with her hair pulled back, maybe wearing a white blouse/dress.

To me it looks like a side profile of a lady sitting on a chair in victorian/edwardian clothing

Yes RXRom I see the same thing. Actually it looks like an image taken through glass, and the glass is reflecting some individuals from the room in which it was taken. There are two distinct individuals being reflected. One facing away to the left, and one a girl facing to the left. You can almost see the camera in the far right of the image.

Just shows how your eyes can play tricks on you (maybe I should get my eyes tested LOL. When I looked at the photo again (without enlarging it), yes crystalcross you can see the girls face.
