Honestly I'm thinking Bee or Wasp...

Look at the zoom and enhance...

And zoomed even more, you can see the dragging feet in the back, the motion blurr of the wings. And the somewhat rounded bee-like body.

I've enhanced all 3 spots I'm seeing. And perhaps I'm just not focusing in the right area.

But the one I enhanced before looked like a bee.

The little tiny one on the left looks like some form of bug also.

And on the bottom left, you can clearly see a moth.

I'm thinking this is just an area with lots of bugs in the light of a flash.
