Orb Photographs
Posted by knittingwytch - 04 Mar 2011 18:36

Hello, I'm KnittingWytch, in Northeast England. I'm originally from the States, and get back 2 or 3 times a year. I've been having orbs show up in my photographs for about the last 8 years or so. I was given a digital camera as a birthday present, and the rest is history. I've photographed orbs in hotels, private residences (several of my own homes) and even in bright daylight outside (against a herd of sheep!). If anyone is interested I'd be glad to share, but as I currently have 150+ photos I'd hate to just spam them all onto here.

Looking forward to your enqiries!

Blessed be,

KnittingWytch

I would say put a few of your favs up. I would mind them all on here . But you would have to check woith the owner. The more evidence the better! Or make your own section in your profile with all your pics

Good evening!

You're welcome to post as many or as few photos as you like. You don't have to worry about spamming us. Thats what we're here for. Just make sure to put them all into one Album if they're associated.
