Is this the picture of the dog at Mineral Springs that everyone has been talking about? We heard the EVP that Jodie has. This picture is awesome! If you are going to Atlanta this week to do a seance please privite message me. I want to attend. I want to see my grandmother.

Prior to taking this picture I had no knowledge of a dog that had drown in the pool.I was also successful in taking a picture of the little girls spirit that is famous for this place. None of the TV crews have even come close to the data that I have collected .

Awww it does look like a doggy. Maybe a rottweiler. Seance to see your grandmother though...ugh I would not do that. Seances are very torturous to spirits and they resent the whole "if you're here do this, move this, make a noise" thing. I'm sure Norman or any other respectable medium would be more than glad to do a reading so you can hear from her. Please stay away from the EVPs. I doubt she would appreciate it.
