Not really seeing anything here. Only thing of any interest are two reflections on the windows.

Here's the first...

And the second...

As you can see they look like reflections of some light source in the house. I'm sure you may know what they're of.

Finally, I see what looks like an 8 or 6 or S on the door. I'm assuming it was from a sticker or something that was once on there but then removed. I've color enhanced it and brightened it up so you can see the detail in the object on the door.

Only thing I'd look in to is what was already suggested, about the shadow? on the door. Other than that, I see nothing, either.

I looked real good and I don't see a shadow on the door.I do see where from the angle and light it looks to me that the wood stain is darker in spots and that is how it is reflecting.

Agreed, all I saw on the door was a spot thats discolored where a sticker or something was at one point. In the shape of an S, 8, or 6.
