I was able to see the pictures. I just needed to read how to follow directions. The thing that marked your neck, did it follow you home? Does that happen often during investigations? WoW!

I see them on your chest. Where did this take place? Was there anything you were asking or provoking this spirit prior too the marks.?

no i was not asking or provoking i know better than that. this was taken at manteno state hospital in manteno, il. we were walking outside because we heard what to be two men talking and walking around we thought maybe it was someone outside. i always try to debunk something before i say or scream ghost. as soon as i walked into the main area toward the door i went to my knees it felt like someone was squeezing my lungs and i couldnt breathe. dementedwarlok grabbed my arm and helped me out the door and as soon as i hit outside i was fine then my chest started to burn it was on fire
