Trail Encounter
Posted by Steve - 05 Jun 2011 20:58

Discuss photo: Trail Encounter

The photo (Photo ID: 318) does not exist

==========

Trail Encounter
Posted by shanwvr88 - 07 Jun 2011 22:54

Wow Steve! Absolutely amazing picture! Saw the faces but I'm curious what type of feeling u got or get when u look cuz i get a couple different feelings about them. I'm not sure if it's just me or that i'm picking up on something for sure.

==========

Re: Trail Encounter
Posted by irisheyes1223 - 07 Jun 2011 23:11

---

they kinda look scary lol but the one by the tree has the "shocked" look on his face almost like wow they actually heard and listened to me

==========

Re: Trail Encounter
Posted by Steve - 08 Jun 2011 01:09

Chris1GCPI wrote:

It is a good picture, but I'm interested in what direction you were actually hiking? Without actually holding the photo in my hands (I'm the touchy-feely type) it's hard to get a good feel of the faces. The path appears to be coming towards you as you look at the picture straight on. I feel that there are imprinted footsteps coming towards me rather than leading away to the trees.

Thanks Chris, we were actually in the mountains and my camera is facing the hill country.

I was facing those in the photo and they were facing me. It was a great time.

==========

Re: Trail Encounter

Posted by Steve - 08 Jun 2011 01:13

_____

shanwvr88 wrote:

Wow Steve! Absolutely amazing picture! Saw the faces but I'm curious what type of feeling u got or get when u look cuz i get a couple different feelings about them. I'm not sure if it's just me or that i'm picking up on something for sure.

Thanks Shan.

What is it that you are picking up?

The feeling that I got was that I had to photograph this place and you see the results. I'm glad I listened. Lol.

==========