I took this picture from my front porch of my home in Ohio. A friend of mine who's body is full of Arthritis stated to me that as this rain was falling her body did not hurt at all. Was there something in this rain, I do not know. I just wanted to take some pictures of it from my porch. One last thing, this rain fall did cover my entire street from curb-curb! I could have floated a canoe on it, it did seem mystical to me too, even before my friend informed me of her feelings. Phil/Ohio
