I want to set the picture here first off....the weather was cold. the sky clear. It was to cold for bugs. I work on an oil rig, so I know how cold this day was:) Anywho, had the night off and found this graveyard. Took lots of pictures and got these 2. I am not a believer in orbs, and I am quite sure this isn't a bug, but then again....The third one I thought was just a cool picture:)

Interesting images, were these taken with any kind of flash? I don't see immediate signs of a flash in these although I do see some source of light from the camera.
