wow u did allot of investigation near me, I live near the San Fernando Cemetery and they say that is a haunted one but I don't know because it closes at night so there is no way to get in,,hey if you ever have a chance there a place up here in Sylmar where I am and there is an old Jewish cemetery next to a new one call Glenn Haven and if u park on the street on natural it moves the car,not sure if you all been there, plus that is where a lot of devil worshiping goes as they say it's called Dexter Park, and we go there on Halloween seen a few people all dressed dark walking around we ask no questions we took off, so they say that cemetery is haunted but the old cemetery at night, it's a open one new one as well,, just no one is there and yo ur all alone in the dark on a hill...so if you guys have time check into that hill:) and do let me know..come to think of it next time I will have to take pics, in the day ofcourse will not go alone in the darn noway..

I can see there's no door knob and that the closet is pretty small. I am curious of all who went on this investigation did a walk through before doing any evidence gathering.
