Yes I would have to agree. I don't currently have the ability to extract the SMTE time codes from videos or if they are even embedded in this form of video. But it would be curious to see if its a contiguous video or if it was edited. If contiguous, it would certainly be a catch.

I was wondering the same thing. I can see some image clitched in the video. This could be from editing since it looks like a flesh and blood person is pressing the hands and face against the glass rather firmly so the can be seen clearer.

Actually this one was just on "Fact or Faked" and they showed that there was a very small gitter in the video which is generally evident when two videos are spliced together.

i saw this particular video played on a few paranormal shows on T.V. It has since been proven to be faked. it is simply too easy to edit and therefor cannot be considered as a catch. how unfortunate. it was on "Fact or Faked" about 80-90% of what is broadcast on t.v. is fabricated to some extent, it is sad, but, there are many real vids, evp's, and other proof that is 100% real, don't be discouraged,, just learn where to follow the real deal...

Not discouraged. Evidence does exist.

I would love to see more of it!

Well honestly that's one of the reasons this site exists. For one its a forum for investigators and paranormal enthusiasts to come an discuss things. But also its a place to bring REAL evidence into the forefront. A single location to go for all things paranormal. We're not trying to replace all the great websites each of the paranormal groups or agencies have, but rather augment and unite them all. And give others one place to look, rather than have to search in a giant easter egg hunt.
