I was wondering if any psychics or sensitives could give me some help. Im at a loss at what to do in a career choice, I have two choices but cannot see a clear path, just wondering if anyone else out there could give advice or wisdom

Always look to your spirit guide and the Universe for help when making these desicions. Those things with your gut feeling usually directs you on the right path. I do see you in a marketing/sales position just not sure where at this time. Hopefully you can make the desicion because this will directly affect you as a person so think hard and look for help from your spiritual side.

Someone taught me this. Take a coin, any coin and assign it sides to your choices. flip the coin and whichever one it lands on, pay attention to the way you feel the second u know which choice it is. Base your decision on that initial feeling. It works, try it! Hope that helps. good luck
