I would like to set a time to Meet

Posted by crystalcross - 27 Mar 2011 03:37

I would like to set up a time that all the Paranormal Investigators on this site can meet to chat about doing live investigation and also other topics we have in common.

Towards this goal, I would first like to find a time that we can all get together. I'm first going to set up a poll in this message to determine the best day of the week. Please respond to the poll only if you are an investigator and are interested in participating.

==========