Dibbuk (Dybbuk) Box

Before I start, we all know the dibbuk box is a well known story that has had alot of attention due to the show Paranormal Witness and the movie Possession.

However it seems I can not find a whole lot of information about such an item other than the eBay story from Paranormal witness or that movie. I have looked up Jewish folklore about Dybbuks. It seems they are "unclean" spirits that possess people to seek revenge. Ok so got that part. But I still cannot find anything about a dybbuk "box". So why am I researching this? Well we have been in contact with a client (friend of a close friend) that claims they have one. That they found it when they started renovation on their current home. We go out tomorrow to get the preliminaries done for an investigation and see this claimed "dybbuk box".

Anyway...

Does anyone here know anything about these things?

No matter what you put into a box it is just a box with a collection of stuff. The "Dybbuk" box was a Sabbath Wine box in an Orthodox home that housed a captured entity which in Yiddish is called a Dybbuk. It could of been a shoe box, a milk carton or even a crayon box, once the entity was captured it was called a Dibbuk (Dybbuk) Box, it could of been called a Dibbuk (Dybbuk) housing to describe what was in it. Example, a box is just a box until you put shoes in it then it becomes a shoe box.

The box can not be duplicated because you did not capture a Dybbuk and I am 99,99% sure you never will
