_____

Hey everyone It's been a while since I've been on and I've not only acquired new abilities but have connected with a friend who also has abilities. He can read auras and I was shown that he had a special set of abilities waiting to be unlocked. We've both got guardians surrounding us and are finding out more all the time. We are currently dealing with some spirits where I live. I've been given more background of my apartment and was especially shocked to find out there were murders here as well as a past resident having read a satanic bible here as well.
