Hey CC, if a hurricane comes through Brevard this year, we'll probably be there and take some photos. Not that I'm hoping a hurricane hits your area of course.

Come to think of it that map does look a bit like a hurricane tarket, doesn't it.

Well you're welcome here anytime as you know. I look forward to investigating again. And if I do form a local group, you will always be welcome when in the area.

Casa Dega isn't that far away, CC. Maybe contact someone from their website to see if one of their psychics/mediums are interested?

Thanks CC, we'll do it again soon. Just had a great experience yesterday in a Tarpon Springs cemetery. We walked into a definite cold spot yesterday in the heat of the day. This hasn't happened before. We'll be going back soon.

Look forward to hearing about it more. Sounds like a great place to investigate. We're certainly ready for our next investigation.
