Can you help with a picture please

Posted by Grupo Alpha - 03 Aug 2011 22:41

Greetings friends

We recently sent a photo a bit strange for analysis. We've always liked to have various opinions regarding this type of analysis so that you could help us had thought. I'm looking for someone with expertise in the photographic analysis. If any of you could help I would be very grateful.

Hugs to all

PDTA: The person who wants to analyze the image will send the original to your email

You help us please??

I am not keen on that, never tried but I am good with photography and aesthetics, composition etc (unless I have to draw it) so yeah fire away if you want to of course, just offering here. Or wait for someone better although I do sense not many here who would be up for the task. At least in the next few hours from now they won't.
