Message from the Other Side

Back this February, I had a friend commit suicide, his name was (well it still is) Mark. Last week, he had been on my mind a lot lately so i asked UT if he could contact him so I could talk to him, even if it was just for a minute. Well UT was able to reach him and we had a very emotional conversation, which I saved on my computer. I also saved it to my ipod to keep with me as a personal reminder to myself.

The next day at work, kept feeling like I was being watched, and I kept hearing my name being called, but I would turn around and no one would be there. I also felt a pressure near my foot, that I couldn't explain. Near the end of day, I was consumed with this cold chill and then a calendar fell off the wall, taking several items with it. I had a hunch it may have been Mark, but I wasn't completely certain.

That evening, I go into chat and I ask Six if she could contact him to see if it was truly him or my imagination. She was able to make contact and my hunch was confirmed: it was Mark. He had been trying to get my attention by saying my name and poking me. He also admitted to accidentally knocking the calendar off the wall. He said that he enjoys my company and he is glad that I can hear him.

The next morning, I reading my IMs that my boyfriend had left me the night before. I can sense him standing over my shoulder, and I can hear him say, "So you really like this guy huh?"

Last night I was feeling rather beside myself last night and I could hear Mark screaming something, but I was as so emotional I couldn't understand him. Finally, after I had calmed down, I understood: "Don't do it! Don't make the same mistake I made! You CAN"T take it back!!"

It brings me happiness and peace to feel his presence near me. Our friendship had been somewhat strained before he died and if he sees me as a port in the storm, then I am happy to be that for him.

WOW! Amazing story! I sure wish I could find someone who could contact my cousin. He passed 7 years ago and I have a few questions! Glad you still have the opportunity to keep him with you...
