New Blood

Posted by porclndol - 28 Nov 2012 06:03

Hello everyone and thank you for taking a moment to allow me to introduce myself. I have been Ghost Hunting for 3 years. I have been to some famous places on over night investigations, but my main haunt is my friends property. We have received multiple evps here and many experiences. Aside from the last three years, I have had paranormal experiences for years. I had something crawl into bed with me one night... I had something grab the top of my head as if to palm a basket ball. I have seen two full bodied apparations.... and I am looking to network with people who have had simular experiences.

Thank you and I look forward to the discussions here!

Take care

==========