A call to Register

Posted by crystalcross - 20 Feb 2011 19:37

First off I want to thank all the members who are regularly checking in on Ghosts & Haunts and following the new posts, pictures and videos. And we really appreciate everyone who comes on here to join in, even if only to watch and follow.

However, I would like to ask everyone to please Register as well. There are lots of features which you can access as a registered member which a non-registered member can not get to. Including the Audio/Video chat, posting messages, leaving photos, vidoes and EVP's. As well as getting to the Live Cast features once we start those.

Registration is completely free, and there are no charges for accessing this service on the web. Registration is simply to ensure that the content is valid and to protect our members from many of the spam posts and messages which tend to plague the internet these days.

So please, take a few moments... Create an account, and feel free to join in the fun!

Click here to Register now.

==========